

Volunteer Graphic Designer

Do you want your design skills to make an impact beyond just the visual? The Edinburgh Tool Library, the UK's first, biggest and best sharing library is looking for a creative volunteer with graphic design skills to help us better visually communicate all the amazing things we do.

We are looking for someone that can help us tell the story of our volunteers who spend their weekends building playgrounds or outdoor furniture for community gardens. Or the story of our mentors, who supporting vulnerable young people by teaching them the skills to overcome barriers to employment. Or our women's woodshop programme that gives makers experiences in the traditional crafts of joinery in an inclusive and open space. And of course the story of our wonderful members who donate equipment from loved ones passed away, to see their tools continue to help people be creative and reduce their carbon footprint.

We have spent the past few months working with creatives, volunteers, and key stakeholders to create a design brief based on where we have come from and where we want to go.

Volunteer Graphic Designer Description

Our Graphic Designer would contribute to the development and delivery of our design elements ensuring that our message about sharing and community building reaches our diverse and growing audience. Maybe you are an established professional or up-and-coming designer - the Tool Library needs you!

We are looking for a commitment of two days a month (possibly one morning or afternoon a week) in our Custom Lane, Leith office. You will be part of an exciting community of makers, thinkers, and doers who are driving the sharing economy in Scotland forward.

Key Skills & Experiences

- Knowledge of high quality print, digital designs, infographics
- Able to develop and work to brand guidelines
- Experience with Adobe CC core software - Indesign, Photoshop & Illustrator
- Ability to deliver engaging visual communication that translates to print
- Willing to lead on graphic design projects, and maintaining personal ownership and responsibility throughout the design and print process.
- Strong eye for detail and ability to contribute creative ideas.
- Passionately supportive of ETL's message of sharing and community building

Further details

- Based in Custom Lane, Leith for an agreed time each month (roughly 2 days a month).
- The Graphic Designer would work closely with the Tool Library Team and Board of Directors
